

College and Career websites

and free SAT/ACT prep

Note: I have not vetted these sites—they need to be evaluated for any costs, for-profit slant, focus on getting you to apply for loans, unaccredited programs, poor track record for graduation and well-paying jobs that allow you to pay back any loans, etc

College Search websites

www.collegeboard.org

www.petersons.com/college-search

www.princetonreview.com/

www.fastweb.com

www.matchcollege.com

<http://www.affordablecollegesonline.org/>

www.schoolguides.com

www.collegedata.com

www.collegetoolkit.com

<http://www.amazon.com/Colleges-Edition-College-Admissions-Guides/dp/0375428399>

For engineering, engineering tech, and computer sciences

(<http://www.dedicatedengineers.org/>)

The Online Guide to Engineering Schools

(www.FindEngineeringSchools.org)

The Online Guide to Engineering Technology Schools

(www.FindEngineeringTechnologySchools.org)

The Online Guide to Computer Science Schools

(www.FindComputerScienceSchools.org)

Evaluations of colleges

US government Dept of Ed sites

www.nces.ed.gov/collegenavigator/

<https://collegescorecard.ed.gov/>

USNews and World Report---yrly college eval

<http://colleges.usnews.rankingsandreviews.com/best-colleges>

WA Monthly—yrly college eval (answer to criticism of USNewsWR rating system)

<http://washingtonmonthly.com/2016/08/29/the-2016-washington-monthly-college-guide-and-rankings-are-out/>

Virtual Tours of colleges

If you can't actually visit a college, virtual tours may be an option.

www.campustours.com

www.ecampustours.com

www.youvisit.com

Or Google the name of the college—many have virtual tours on their websites

Information on career, education, and military options for 16-24 year olds

From Departments of Defense, Education, and Labor

<http://www.myfuture.com>

SAT/ACT Prep

<https://www.khanacademy.org/sat>

http://www.eknowledge.com/Affiliate_Welcome.asp?coupon=3A8E9CEFCE

Most sites offer free 'diagnostic'/sample questions but the tutoring prep costs money.